JACOB DECK CEMETERY (STAUBUS CEMETERY) is located on the Staubus farm in Sullivan County, Tennessee, behind the house at 1272 Reedy Creek Road. It is about $\frac{1}{4}$ mile south of where the Scott County VA and the Washington County VA lines meet the Sullivan County line, and on a branch of Reedy Creek and about $\frac{2}{3}$ mile southwest of the Johnson's Chapel.

It is in bad condition, very overgrown with briars and a tree has fallen on one fieldstone. There were at least twenty-two graves marked by fieldstones and at least three unmarked graves.

The topographical map calls this the Staubus Cemetery, but neighbors have always known it as the Jacob Deck Cemetery.

Jacob Deck is listed in the Sullivan County militia as an ensign in the Second Regiment on 23 Sep 1815. He is listed in the 1937 Tax list of Sullivan County, Tennessee, in District # 6, Reedy Creek area, owning 337 acres of land and one slave.
