

John Sheets's mother Sarah Leader, died when he was a baby. Her parents were "well to do" and John received her share of inheritance from his grandparents. James (his dad) was made his legal guardian over the money and they say, John had no money worries growing up. "We have some court documents showing how money was spent on John as he was growing up." They say when John turned 18 or so, he received what was left of the money and went abroad. Later he came back to Leipsic and married his adopted sister Ida. (Family Group Sheet)
